ARIZONA.

A month or two ago the friends of the Hon. R. C. McCormick, Secretary of the Territory of Arizona, gave him a sumptuous dinner at the Astor House, in New York. On the occasion the Hon. C. D. Poston, delegate from the territory made an eloquent speech, wherein he said:

Arizona is the classical land of pioneers, and has a history more interior in interest to any portion of the American continent. The first pioneers of Arizona were, in the opinion of the illustrious Humboldt, Asiatics, and reached the land of Ophir by Behring's Straits. They have left monuments of their industry in Arizona, marking their career with indubitable evidences of civilization.

A lonely citadel stands near the Pima villages, in the midst of a desert, as the only milestone of time left to mark the passage of this race. The house has five stones yet remaining, and was surrounded by a city covering an area of some ten miles square, watered by canals from the Gila River. Of this race little or nothing is known. No historian has recorded their rise and fall. No poet has celebrated their deeds of love or arms. The old "Casa Grande" stand in solemn majesty, the sentinel of the desert, mourning for its lost children. The next pioneers were the proud Hidalgos of old Spain, who bore the banner and the cross from Vera Cruz to San Francisco. Indomitable in war, and zealous in religion, they marched with the torch of civilization in one hand and the crop of faith in the other. They were noble men, and nobly did their work. The monuments of their devotion are spread from Cape Horn to Oregon. The first to enter Arizona was the renowned Cabezo de Vaca, who crossed the continent from the Savannah of Florida to the mountains of Arizona in 1538.

In this remote region they found villages of stone, inhabited by an intelligent race claiming European extraction. These are now called Moquis or Mokes, and inhabit north eastern Arizona.

The next pioneers were Americans. In the year 1824 a party of about 100 hardy and adventurous frontiersmen set out on a trapping expedition to the head waters of the Arkansas River. After many romantic adventures in New Mexico, the party dispersed, and a few of the boldest spirits undertook to reach the Pacific Ocean.

* * * *

In the year 1853 the Gadsden Treaty was made, by which we acquired that narrow strip of land which forms the southern district of Arizona. In their eagerness to secure a southern route for a railroad to the Pacific the politicians of that day overlooked the substantial advantages to be gained by a port on the Gulf and outwitted by Mexican diplomacy parted with $10,000,000 in hard gold without leaving us egress to the sea. With a port on the Gulf of California, the vivifying streams of commerce would soon vitalize Arizona, and extract from her virgin bosom wealth which it would seem fabulous to predict.

THURSDAY MORNING, DEC. 26, 1865

Too Much or Too Little.

We see an item going the rounds of the press to the effect that Senator Nye of Nevada has introduced a bill to segregate the Territory of Utah, and add to Nevada a strip of country one degree in width. It is estimated that if this bill becomes a law it will take from Utah not less than nine hundred square miles, embracing some of the finest agricultural land, and the richest mineral regions of the interior of the continent. The same subject was broached in Congress last year but no definite action was taken on it. It seems to have been revived by Senator Nye, but it is to be hoped that Congress will at least pause before enacting such a law. Other things being equal, it is fair to say that Nevada has now certainly as much area as any one State requires, and its resources in silver are almost illimitable. On no principle of justice or propriety can she claim an extension of her limits, which are already large enough to satisfy the most inordinate longings of State pride.

But we suspect that the proposed measure is not based on a suggestion that Nevada is too much restricted in her domain or that Utah has to great an area. One of the reasons mooted if not assigned is, that the Mormons should be curtailed of their powers, and the western part of the Territory stricken off and added to Nevada. But as a moral or political reformer, Senator Nye in this matter has not exactly hit the mark, and we hope that antipathy to Mormon laws and Mormon practices, which is beginning at last to be aroused at the east, may not induce Congress to make any such egregious blunder, as the passage of the Senator's bill would be. Like old Joe Byer's turkey it is "too much for one meal and not enough for two." By itself, the bill goes too far, or not far enough, to affect beneficially the object apparently aimed at. Unless indeed Mr. Nye wishes to aggrandize Nevada at the expense of Utah, simply because Nevada is Nevada, and Utah is Utah.

It is too well known that the leaders of Utah advocate resistance even to the bitter end to the enforcement of the anti-polygamy law, and live in open undisguised violation and defiance of its provision. Mr. Cellax and others have said that the law should either be repealed or enforced—yet how enforce it? when the political powers and all the machinery of the law are in the hands of those who obey Brigham's council as more binding on them than the laws of the land? To meet this and other objections to the policy of exclusiveness, persecution and intolerance so prevalent, it has been gravely suggested that the Territorial organization of Utah should be abolished by the repeal of the Organic Act, and the Territory divided among the surrounding States and Territories Nevada, Arizona, Colorado and Idaho.

If Congress can devise no other or better method as a cure for existing evils, and for enforcing compliance with its laws, then let that be done. But we object most strenuously to any such half work and tinkering as Senator Nye proposes. The district of country proposed to be cut off abounds in one of the richest mines on the continent, and is rapidly filling up with an industrious, enterprising and energetic gentile population. Their proximity to Mormon settlements, and constant political and social intercourse may be depended on for good results. Soon they will be entitled to vote, and to a voice in the political affairs of Utah and in a peaceful if not entirely harmonious way Utah, may hope to take her proper rank among the loyal territories, and eventually as a State. We think it would be a serious blunder to cut off any part of our Territory, unless the physician shall cut deeper and effect a cure. Let there be no such crippling and unjust measures adopted, as the bill referred to. It may be very good for Nevada, but it is bad for Utah, and worse for the Nation and the cause of good government and progress.

One of the latest swindles is the following, which has been successfully tried in Philadelphia: Bogus telegrams, the printed blanks of which are exact imitation of those used by the telegraph companies, are sent to persons interested in oil matters, informing them that some miserable oil company has struck a flowing well. The recipient swallows the bait, perhaps tells his friends of his good news, and the shares of the bogus corporation are eagerly bought up at advanced prices.

Details of the fatal accident to W. P. Johnson, brother to the President, show that he was accidentally shot while removing a gun from a small boat in which he crossed the Brazos river, on the 24th of October. The ball shattered his arm and amputation being deferred too long, he died after lingering three or four weeks. He leaves a wife and three children.

Of Shakespeare, it is said by Richard Grant White, that he never re-touched or published one line of all his works; he wrote for money, and having got his pay he left his copies of them to take care of themselves. He never wrote anybody a letter, and when he died left but four autographs behind him. Truly, he would probably be a scarce author in these days.

BY PACIFIC TELEGRAPH.

[SPECIAL TO THE DAILY UNION VEDETTE.]

FOREIGN NEWS.

New York, Dec. 24.

Dispatches were received by special envoy from head-center Stephens, yesterday. So important were they considered by President O'Mahoney, that he at once ordered them before General Sweeny or those who represent what's called the Senate, with a view to have their requirments complied with. The nature of the dispatches are not made public. A London letter says the American Consul at Dublin, calls on all persons, relatives and kin to Irishmen, who died in the American military service, to come forward and claim arrearages of pay, prize money and pensions.

A letter from Brownville mentions the return of a party of Americans who had been exploring the Mexican States of Tampua and Copula. In the towns of Mire, Gurerero, Villicimo and many others of less importance, they acknowledge the Juarez government. The French troops left Monterey about the 1st of November.

New Orleans, Dec. 22.

The Times' Mexican correspondent says, General Dias is carrying all before him. The whole State of Adjucla is in arms against the Imperialists. The Liberals master the whole coast between Vera Cruz and Tuscan, and also South Vera Cruz. The Austrians met several defeats. Marshal Bazine writes that Mejia is in the northern frontier, under double protection of the Emperor of Mexico and the Emperor of the French.

New York Dec. 24.

The Herald's Toronto special says, an agent of our Post Office Department and the U. S. Consul at Toronto, recently found in bond in the Custom house of that city $10,000 worth of U. S. three cent postage stamps, the consignment of which was to a house here by a rebel agent there at Liverpool. Our government received the information in August last, and supposed the stamps were captured by the pirate Florida. An injunction of the stamps has been gotten and it is expected that the question of their proprietorship be argued before the Canadian Courts.

The Herald's Brownsville correspondent states that the outrages to which the people had been subjected to by Maximilian's European troops and the state of anarchy which has prevailed even in that portion of the Mexican territory which he claims to have completely under his sway, are immense. Notwithstanding his repeated boasts of the order and happiness of his reign, forced loans of money and other property, are constantly being collected by Imperial soldiers at the point of the bayonet. Citizens who demur to such treatment incur the penalty of death or imprisonment.

Some additional correspondence passed about the beginning of this month between Gen. Weitzel, commanding the United States troops on the Rio Grande, and Gen. Mejia, commander at Matamoras, each urging grievances inflicted by the other. Weitzel alleges Mejia has, on more occasions, imprisoned innocent American citizens, and informs him, by the direction of General Sheridan, that if such outrages are repeated no personal apologies in lieu of his faith will be accepted. He strongly intimates that he will be authorized to settle the matter by force of arms. Mejia's complaint is the old one, of aid and comfort given the Mexican Republicans by Weitzel's troops. Weitzel says he is ordered to say that hereafter when any garrison under Mejia's command is in a state of seige, no supplies of any kind will be permitted to be sent to such garrison from this side. Gen. Sheridan thinks it would be a less violation of neutrality against the legitimate authority of Mexico to send powder to such garrisons, and that he is ordered to stop all intercourse with any garrison during the progress of the siege, except that which humanity shall dictate.

The correspondent further says, the probabilities of active interference by the United States in the affairs of Mexico is the one thing thought of at Brownsville. The impression is very strong that this will be delayed but a short time. The certainty of the authorities is such as would warrant the conclusion that no great pains will be taken to avoid a rupture.

December 26.

The Herald's Vera Cruz correspondent of the 13th writes, the old Imperialist rumor that Juarez resigned the Presidency of the Mexican Republic is again circulated. The story is a canard intended, as in previous cases, to affect Mexican Republican loans. The Imperialists just before sailing, and every French steamer invariably circulate some rumor to foster up Maximilian's cause in the minds of the public in Europe.

GENERAL NEWS.

New York, Dec. 24.

A Washington dispatch says, strong efforts will be made within a few days by interested parties, to have the Secretary of the Treasury issue U. S. bonds to the Pacific R. R. Company, for the alleged completion of twenty-two miles of the road west from Lawrence, Kansas. A protest also was entered against their issue. The whole matter is now under advisement.

New Orleans, Dec. 22.

The Louisana Legislature adjourned to-day until the 4th of January. The House failed to pass the usual appropriation bills. The Governor vetoed the bill suspending the collections of taxes for '62, '63 and '64, on the ground that it would afford relief to those who had attempted to destroy the Government and who were absent from the city during the war, whilst the Union men who remained paid taxes.

The Vicksburg Journal has advices which it deems reliable, of an alarming character from Tazoo. The people of the country are reported to be flying to the towns for protection. The negroes are represented to be arming and claim that between now and Christmas land must be given them or they will take it by force. The colored troops stationed in the country are espousing the cause of the negroes. Serious trouble is apprehended.

New York, Dec. 25.

Christmas was observed in business circles, as a close holiday. Services were held this morning in nearly all the churches of New York and Brooklyn. No disturbance of any kind has been reported. A memorial of the Messrs Upton of Boston, asking Congress to force a redress from England for the destruction of American ship "Nora," by the pirate Alabama, is published to day.

The [illegible] from Kingston, Jamaica, was [illegible] but the British authorities refused. A letter from Montreal says the reply [illegible] of Sir Geo. Brown has [illegible] the question of friendly or for unfriendly commercial relations with the U. S. Brown taking unfriendly sides, and being outnumbered by advocates of the opposite policy.

A letter from Charleston says the difficulty between the freedmen and Planters on the Islands along the South Carolina coast still continue. A party of old proprietors with two of Gen Sickles' staff officers, recently went from Charleston to James Island for the purpose of having a conference with the negroes. On approaching the Island in their boat they were confronted by about sixty armed negroes, who would listen to no explanations, even from army officers, but threatened to fire on the first one of the party who stepped ashore. Two regiments of regular troops were afterwards sent to the Island to put the freedmen under better subjection. The army officers in South Carolina are using every exertion to dispel the impression of the colored people that the Government designs securing them in possession of their plantations.

New York, Dec 25.

Despatches from Washington say the President will hold his annual levee New Year's day; but it is scarcely probable that any public reception can take place before the last of January, in consequence of refurnishing the Executive Mansion, which has not yet began. There is no truth in the report that the southern Members elect held a caucus a few days ago and resolved to go home to remain there until after the 4th of March next. Most of these southern congressmen have gone home to spend the holidays, and intend returning in January, to prosecute their claims for seats in congress. The opinion is gaining ground that the credentials of claimants for seats from the Southern States, should be referred to the Committee on Elections and there be disposed of.

The pressure upon the heads of the departments for clerkships, has increased enormously. Most of the Senators and Representatives have half a dozen special cases for favorable consideration. There are no vacancies to be filled in the departments, on the contary nearly two-hundred clerks have been discharged, in the various bureaus within ten days past, because their services were no longer required. All the leading Committees are broken up by the absence of the Members. Congressional work in any form will be an impossibility till the 5th of Jan. A call headed by Gen. Grant and signed by a number of other distinguished officers of the army and navy has been issued for a public meeting, to take into consideration the best measure for providing for disabled vet r n soldiers and sea men, and for forming a permanent military association which shall have their welfare as its object.

Chicago, Dec. 25.

A terrible case of suffocation by gas occurred on Saturday night, at the Bremen Hotel of this city, resulting in the death of six men, all of whom slept in the same room and it is supposed, after retiring, the cap of the gas pipe which was insecurely fitted on fell off. On entering the room yesterday morning five were found dead, and the 6th died this evening.

New York, Dec 24.

A charge of scandalious outrages on the Fenian circle of Jersey city, was yesterday made by Chas. W Newbes, living in that town. He alleges that he was seized upon, on the street, Friday night, and dragged into a Fenian Lodge-room, charged with being a British spy, put upon trial and subjected to various indignities during the struggle which ensued. He succeeded in making his escape.

It is rumored that the senatorial Departments of the Fenians determined on a Canadian war immediately. Measures of compromise between the Cabinet and Senate are now under debate. Staff officers are announced. Two of its members are graduates of West Point.

The Herald's Washington special says the circulation of the National Bank was increased by the issue of upwards of four million dollars during the past week. Total circulation about two hundred and fifty four million. The first "reception" at the White House will be next Thursday. None other until the re assembling of Congress.

N w York, Dec 26.

The Herald's special says, it is stated in Washington quite positively that Gen. Grant will sail immediately after the holidays, in the flag-ship of the Gulf Squadron for the Rio Grande. Com. Winslow has sailed in the Champion, via Orleans, leaving behind his flag-ship for the General.

The opinion is that the successorship of the U. S. Judgeship, vacated by the Death of Judge Catron belongs to the South, and wont be filled for some time.

A few army officers who have served on the plains are besieging the President with suggestions of plans for the employment of our military force against the "Latter day Saints," in default of an opportunity for employment against Maximilian and Napoleon.

There is considerable excitement in this city, owing to a promulgation by the senatorial party of the Fenians. Documents bearing upon the present Fenian troubles and a letter from Jas. Stephens obtained at Dublin, denominate O'Mahoney a drag chain and stumbling block to the movement. A compromise is going on and the rank and file begin to gather for the retirement of O'Mahony and the Senate.

Billiards.—At Irving Hall, New York city, on the 4th of the last month, Dudley Kavanagh had another trial of skill with Pierre Carme, and "got even." They played a game of 1,500 points, for $2,000, and Carme was beaten 161 points. It was the American game of caroms with the push shot barred. Kavanagh made a miss the first play, when Carme followed by scoring two. Kavanagh's biggest run was 132, and the Frenchman's 178.

The following, among other troops, are to be mustered out of service: The Connectient 8th and 11th Infantry; the Massachusetts 1st and 4th Companies Unattached Heavy Artillery; the New York 41st and 103d Infantry, and the Pennsylvania 188th and 213th Infantry.

The Pates Seminary at St. Joseph accidentally took fire on the 30th ult., and it was only after the most strenuous exertions that the building was saved from destruction. So says the St. Joe Union.

The Daily Union Vedette

Local and Miscellaneous.

Of love and peace thou'rt sweetly singing;
But diamond be thy point, my pen,
When crime's dumb bells are round thee ring.

This twelfth letter of the year is now on its "last legs."

THE Rev. Alexander Campbell, the founder of the sect of Campbellites, lately died in Kentucky.

A SAN FRANCISCO paper has just discovered that "there seems to be some foundation for the report that the silver mines of Owyhee are yielding largely."

OFF TO THE EAST.—A. D. Richardson and ex-Governor Goodwin, of Arizona, were passengers for the east from San Francisco, per the steamer Sacramento, which started on the 18th.

BUILDINGS to rent are so scarce in Portland, Oregon, says the Argus, that a family is living in an old fish market on one of the wharves. They take boarders, who room in sugar boxes.

THE Washington Territory Standard mentions the discovery of a lead of silver bearing rock at Mount Rainer, specimens of which assayed at Victoria, yielded $40 to the ton.

THE mechanics and laboring men of Leavenworth are holding meetings designed to secure the benefit of the eight hour system of labor. These eight hour leagues are being organized in all the large cities of the Union, and are effecting their object.

BIDS FOR FORAGE.—Bids for forrage, to be furnished at Provo and Fort Ephraim, Utah, will be received up to 12 M., Thursday, Dec. 28th, by Capt. D. B. Stover Quarter-Master, Camp Douglas. Bidders are requested to be present at the opening of bids. dec27—2t

"PURE QUILL."—This provincialism passes current here these days, among a class of conversationists, and is applied in every acceptation almost, universally. "Valley Tan" is termed the "pure quill," ("pizen,") while a personage who pays his printer's bill with promptness is paid the "compliment" of being "the pure quill!"

OUR latest English visitors consider it a fact worthy of especial mention that in their journeying through the East and West, they had not seen a single man asking alms. There or And speaking of pauper practices, had he reached this region he might have added—"And through the West I never noticed boys and aged men collect cigar-stumps off the streets until I struck Salt Lake." Habit is hard to conquer.

THE jury in the cause of the State vs. William Watkins, indicted by a preceding Grand Jury for the killing of Huntsman in Upper Austin, some eight months ago, says the Reveille, rendered a verdict of murder in the second degree. The prisoner was ordered to appear in Court on Saturday, the 16th instant, to receive the judgment of the law and the verdict.

QUARTO newspapers are getting in vogue at the West. The Cincinnati Commercial and Chicago Republican have adopted this form and also publish seven days in the week, Sundays and Mondays both. The Chicago Republican, which is the new paper under Mr. Dana, has already established its right and power to live. It claims to have paid expenses from the start.

THE English publisher of Artemus Ward, Orpheus C. Kerr, Hosea Bigelow, The Autocrat of the Breakfast Table and John G. Saxe appends to his advertisements a notice as follows: "All these books are published without the authority of the several American authors. They are printed without their leave or sanction, precisely as Mr. Brelon's books, and Englishmen's works generally, are printed in America, without their leave or sanction."

"OUR AMERICAN COUSIN."—The splendid drama of the day was put on the stage at the Academy of Music, last evening, by Manager S. M. Irwin, in the best of style. The piece was presented to the life by Mr. and Mrs. Irwin, Master Rainsforth and the gents and ladies of the Potter Dramatic Troupe. Time prevents our particularizing more at length this morning. We advise the management to repeat this piece next Saturday evening. It will draw still bigger.

SHORTEST WAY TO INSANITY.—The Humboldt Times says the shortest way to insanity, is to be an editor; cut off from all communication from the outside world; be deprived of the benefit of the few mail facilities afforded at the will and pleasure of pet contractors and irresponsible employees; be expected to furnish two columns of local matter, and no one to furnish an item; let the "devil" be waiting for copy; sit down to write an article upon any of the topics of the day, and get a few sentences done; then let an acquaintance drop in and rehearse the thousand and one pieces of scandal, gossips and slanders that are going the rounds, and let him sit and sit like the "greeny" in the ball room until he has taken cost, then if you don't say this is the quickest way to get raving mad, we'll give it up.

THE Virginia Enterprise has entered upon its eighth year, the first number having been issued at Genoa, Dec. 18th, 1858, when Nevada was a portion of Utah Territory. It is now a splendid looking quarto well edited for any city of the east or west. But, to recur to the day of small things, four or five years since it was a very small and scanty budget of intelligence. Hence we have a hope in how our own Vedette, now only in its second annuary, will loom up large and lovely, ere it enters even its third or fourth year. Its present "puling recruit" is not so slow as to be sneezed at by any of its thrice-older cotemporaries in some of the sections east and west of us.

GRAND GENTILE DISPLAY.—About the hour of noon, on yesterday, as if by an understanding previously, a party of almost a hundred ladies and gents, civil and military, made a raid on Main street, equipped in all the elegant accoutrements for an imposing sleigh-ride. About twenty five or thirty handsome sleighs, two and four-horse teams, with flags a flying, banners streaming, merry faces, bells and beaver robes, with belles and dames in all their gentile glory, gaily started on a pleasure drive through the maid streets of town, attracting admiration and eliciting applause. The grand, gala party were attended by the Camp brass band, discoursing festive airs as all flew o'er our streets so wide and swathed in the snowy carpets that old Winter laid so kindly, for these holiday high-times. Hardly anything of the kind more handsome could have been rivalled west of Washington Avenue or Union Park.

Vive la "Gentile" supremacy of style in Salt Lake City!

OBITUARY.

"Blessed are the merciful, for they shall obtain mercy."

DIED.—At Camp Douglas, Utah Territory, Tuesday December 26th 1865, in the 49th year of her age, JULIA A TRUAIR STILLMAN (wife of Capt. J. W. Stillman, late of 3rd Infantry Batallion California, Volnuteers.)

On Tuesday last all that was mortal of the late Mrs. Stillman was borne to the Camp Cemetery, followed by a long cavalcade of sleighs and carriages containing the many friends of the deceased. The subject of this brief and imperfect sketch was born in the City of New York in 1817. Of her earlier life the writer of this knows little save that she was the daughter of the Rev. Mr Truair, a minister of the Presbyterian faith, founder of the first Seamen's Bethel in New York, and has been the faithful consort, of her now stricken husband, for more than twenty years. She accompanied him to California among the earliest of the pioneers, and was one of the first ladies in the now unrivalled Golden City. The writer knew the late Mrs. S. for more than fourteen years, and cannot forbear to express here his appreciation of her many kindly qualities and worth. Through those long years, amid the varying fortunes of a California life, and since the troops came to Utah, the deceased was a faithful wife, a sympathising friend and truly an angel of mercy, to the afflicted and stricken. With a heart overflowing with kindliness and generosity, she was a friend to the friendless—with boundless charity, and a wonderful never ceasing wish to do others good, she was ever found at the bed-side of the sick, ministering with even a mother's care to the afflicted around her. To the soldiers and denizens of Camp Douglas, Mrs. Stillman's name was the synonym of generosity, charity and kindness of nature. A warmer heart, ever thoughtful of others and regardless of self, has never been placed beneath the sod. How oft has her ministering hand soothed the dying, and alleviated the woes of the afflicted, this poor pen cannot tell, but her good deeds are embalmed, and will live in the memories of the many, who repine her loss and bless her name. Others we have known of whom it is proudly and nobly said that distress, want, or affliction never went from their door unalleviated and whose heart never failed to respond to the voice of woes; but of the deceased, it can be truly said that sickness and sorrow did not have to find her out, but she sought them herself, with earnest tender of kindness and sympathy and relief. Not wealth, or rank or station alone claimed her ministrations in life, but her great heart comprised the sorrow and woes of the poor and friendless, and mayhap deserted. She never seemed so completely at home, so much herself, as when contributing to others' good and happiness. The tear of grateful remembrance of an hundred kindly acts and christian deeds, fell o'er thy grave, amid the bleak snows of that cold December day, while the rude wind sighed a requiem. Not all were at thy tomb who felt, oh, how deeply, that they had lost a friend!

To the stricken husband of the deceased we can offer little to assuage his grief. Nor would we, enter the sacredness of his deep sorrow. Words but poorly express sympathy in such affliction, and sympathy in vain seeks to break the force of such a blow. 'Tis He alone, who gives and takes away in his own good time, can mercifully bestow the balm to heal the wounded heart. But it is a consolation passing the mere words of friendly sympathy, to know that this estimable lady died in the faith of her Redeemer, with the full and confident hope of resurrection near the throne of the Great Jehovah, through the atonement of the blessed Jesus.

Peaceful be her slumbers in the cold grave, after a life spent in works of charity, mercy and good will to those on earth.

BOOK WITH OUR

When we shall review back life years,
Reviewing all life's joys and tears,
With gladness may it love to look
Upon the pages of this book,
And mark the [illegible] to trace
That here shall find a willing place;
Recall the friends of early youth,
Their acts of love and words of truth,
[illegible]
But dare with pure, unclouded ray
In the bright realms of endless day.

To carve corns, rub them over with toasted cheese, and let three or four hungry mice nibble them for a night or two.

Never despise counsels, from whatever quarter they reach you. Remember that the pearl is keenly sought for in spite of the coarse shell which envelops it.

"Well, indeed a newly-fledged legislator of a fellow-passenger on the Hudson River Railroad, "are you going to the legislature?" "No, thank God! not so bad as that. I am going to the State Prison!"

A GREEK maid being asked what fortune she would bring her husband, replied: "I will bring him what gold cannot purchase—a heart unspotted, virtue without stain, which is all I inherited from my parents."

"Isn't a dollar too much for two hours' work sawing a load of wood?" queried an employer. "Sah," replied the Ethiopian professor of the manly art of wood sawing. "I charge fifty cents for the sawing, and fifty cents more for the know how?"

It often amuses me to hear men impute all their misfortunes to fate, bad luck or destiny, while their success or good fortune they ascribe to their own sagacity, cleverness, or penetration. It seems to such minds that light and darkness are one and the same, concentrating from and being part of the same nature.—Coleridge.

The City is one of the most beautiful in the Union, and the largest between St. Louis and Sacramento. Its scenery of mountains is majestic, and its view of island and Lake is peerlessly picturesque.

The City proper is a square of three miles each side, and contains 250 blocks of 10 acres each (each divided into 8 lots,) and 4 public squares. Its level streets, running due east and west and north and south, are 128 feet wide, with shade trees along either sidewalk, and living streams of water flowing by both sides of every street to irrigate the fruit trees and gardens.

The Territory is divided into twenty counties, the towns of which range from 6,000 to 600 population.
